California Residents

This section provides information for California residents as per the California Consumer Privacy Act (“CCPA”), that obliges us to provide residents of California specific information regarding how we manage their personal information, online or offline. However, this section does not address or apply to our management of publicly available information which is made legally available by state or federal governments or other personal information that is subject to an exemption under the CCPA.

California Residents’ Rights. California residents have been granted particular rights by the California law and imposes restrictions on certain business practices as mentioned below.

- Do-not-sell: California residents have the right to opt-out of the sale of their personal information. If you are a California resident, you can submit an opt-out request here. We do not sell personal information about residents who we know are younger than 16 years old without opt-in consent.
- Notice before collection: We are required to notify California residents, at or before the point of collection of their personal information, the categories of personal information collected and the purposes for which such information is used.
- Request to delete: California residents have the right to request, at no charge, deletion of their personal information that we have collected about them and to have such personal information deleted, except where an exemption applies. We will respond to verifiable requests received from California residents as required by law.
- Request to know: California residents have the right to request and, subject to certain exemptions, receive a copy of the specific pieces of personal information that we have collected about them in the prior 12 months and to have this delivered, free of charge, either (a) by mail or (b) electronically in a portable and, to the extent technically feasible, readily useable format that allows the individual to transmit this information to another entity without hindrance. California residents also have the right to request that we provide them certain information about how we have handled their personal information in the prior 12 months, including:
 - categories of personal information collected;
 - categories of sources of personal information;
 - business and/or commercial purposes for collecting and selling their personal information;
 - categories of third parties/with whom we have disclosed or shared their personal information;
 - categories of personal information that we have disclosed or shared with a third party for a business purpose; and
 - categories of third parties to whom the residents' personal information has been sold and the specific categories of personal information sold to each category of third party.

California residents may make a Request to Know up to twice every 12 months, at no charge. We will respond to verifiable requests received from California residents as required by law.

- Discrimination and financial incentives: The CCPA prohibits discrimination against California residents for exercising their rights under the CCPA. A business may offer financial incentives for the collection, sale or deletion of California residents' personal information, where the incentive is not unjust, unreasonable, coercive or usurious, and is made available in compliance with applicable transparency, informed consent, and opt-out requirements. California residents have the right to be notified of any financial incentive offers and their material terms, the right to opt-out of such incentives at any time, and may not be included in such incentives without their prior informed opt-in consent. We do not offer any such incentives at this time.

Submitting Verifiable Requests.

We will respond to verifiable requests received from California residents as required by law.
